Course Summary

The Postgraduate Certificate in Education Studies course is an innovative programme designed for people with experience of working in an educational setting who wish to focus on their professional development alongside a postgraduate qualification. The PGCert in Education Studies course enables educational practitioners to formally engage in focused study with meaning and purpose, to refine their goals in the profession and their work in their educational setting. It is based on an informed and critical approach to the academic study of education and is intended to reflect both the desires and ambitions of postgraduate students and the philosophical traditions and current development in the field. The course provides participants with the opportunity to engage critically with contemporary educational research and is suited to anyone with practice experience.

<sup>1</sup> For an explanation of the levels of higher education study, see the QAA Frameworks for Higher Education Qualifications of UK Degree-Awarding Bodies \(2014\)

<sup>2</sup> All academic credit awarded as a result of study at the University adheres to the Higher education credit framework for England.

<sup>3</sup> Where the course is delivered both full-time and part-time, the standard length of course is provided for the full-time mode of attendance only. The length of the part-time course is variable and dependent upon the intensity of study. Further information about mode of study and maximum registration periods can be found in the Framework and Regulations for Taught Postgraduate Awards.

DEFINITIVE COURSE RECORD

Course Aims

- to offer an innovative, dynamic and flexible programme that critically considers developments in the academic study of education
- to advance students' knowledge of a particular field of study in which they have prior knowledge or experience through previous study or employment and to encourage them to take ownership and responsibility for their own learning
- to advance students' knowledge of the complexity of understanding the relationship between theory, reflection and practice and the implications for policy and practice
- to provide a robust theoretical framework for students to develop an integrated and critical understanding of education and to cultivate a critical and analytical approach to contemporary methodological advances in educational research
- to develop in students a range of intellectual skills reflecting both the ethos of lifelong learning and the rigour required at level 7; a high level of autonomy and self-direction in order to facilitate the demonstration of initiative, originality alongside integrity and ethical judgement in their advanced scholarship; and to become influential and effective specialists in the field of education

Course Learning Outcomes

The following statements define what students graduating from the PgC Education Studies course will have been judged to have demonstrated in order to achieve the award. These statements, known as learning outcomes, have been formally approved as aligned with the generic qualification descriptor for level 7 awards as set out by the UK Quality Assurance Agency (QAA).<sup>5</sup>

*Optional modules Enhancing Practice to Empower Looked After Children: Trauma, Attachment and Educational Provision (20 credits) and Globalisation, Social Justice and Children's Rights are available from the MA Childhood Studies course. However, to meet the course learning outcomes and gain the PgC, students will have to attain 40 credits from MAES modules and will only be able to take one MA Childhood Studies module.

Optional modules available in any year will be communicated to you prior to your enrolment to facilitate module choice. Some optional modules may not run every year of study, and the availability of optional modules depends on the level of student demand, the availability of specialist staff and timetabling constraints. In addition, we regularly review our curriculum to ensure it is up-to-date, relevant, draws on the latest research and addresses contemporary issues. As a result, the modules we offer may change over the course of your studies.

Awards

On successful completion of the course, students will be awarded a PgC Education Studies.

Course Delivery

The course is delivered at Ipswich Campus. The PgC is taught face to face in afternoon/ early evening sessions and asynchronously online to enable full time teachers to attend sessions. Usually, each 20 credit module requires attendance at 10 face to face sessions though there is some variation between modules. For each 20 credit module students will normally be expected to undertake a total of 180 hours of independent study but should be prepared for this to vary based on assignment deadlines and class exercises. Part time students will be expected to undertake approximately 15-30 hours of independent study in a week and full time students will be expected to undertake approximately 30-45 hours of independent study in a week. The number of hours of independent study will vary according to modules selected.

Course Assessment

A variety of assessments will be used on the course to enable students to experience and adapt to different assessment styles. The assessment methods used will be appropriate to assess each module's intended learning outcomes. Assessment on the course overall will be 100% coursework (including essays, reports, presentations, group work, reflective learning journals and research projects).

Course Team

The academic staff delivering this course are drawn from a team that includes teaching and research specialists. All staff are qualified in their subjects with their own specialist knowledge to contribute.
