Course Summary

The FdA Supporting Inclusive Learning and Practice has been running at the University of Suffolk at East Coast College, Lowestoft Campus since 2008. The course was originally developed to meet the needs of those working in the education sector such as teaching assistants and behaviour support assistants. Over the years, this has been broadened to encompass a wider range of non-education professions such as support workers, care workers and safeguarding officers. The teaching content within the FdA Supporting Inclusive Learning and Practice and the BA (Hons) Inclusive Practice and Integrated Working [progression route] are aimed at meeting the needs of groups who are classed as

Awards

On successful completion of the course, students will be awarded a FdA Supporting Inclusive Learning and Practice.

Course Delivery

The course is delivered at East Coast College (Lowestoft). Students studying full-time on FdA Supporting Inclusive Learning and Practice are likely to have approximately 7 contact hours per week. The contact hours will be a mix of lectures and seminars. Students are expected to be in suitable work in the sector or in a voluntary placement working with a vulnerable group. Students should undertake 10 hours a week of work placement during the 30 weeks of the academic year, for the entire duration of the FdA Supporting Inclusive Learning and Practice course. Students will need to arrange all work and voluntary placements themselves and will need to have a mentor, who will act as a critical friend, in the work place or placement. Full time students will normally be expected to undertake at least 10-15 hours of independent study in an average week, but should be prepared for this to vary based on assignment deadlines and class exercises.

Course Assessment

A variety of assessments will be used on the course to enable students to experience and adapt to different assessment styles. The assessment methods used will be appropriate to assess each module's intended learning outcomes. Assessment on the course overall will be mostly coursework (including essays, reports, presentations and portfolios) with one exam at Level 4.

Course Team

The academic staff delivering this course are drawn from a team that includes teaching specialists and current practitioners. All staff are qualified in their subjects with their own specialist knowledge to contribute.
